Re: Explosive situation at Tax Office-Vineyard Bldg.

Excellency:

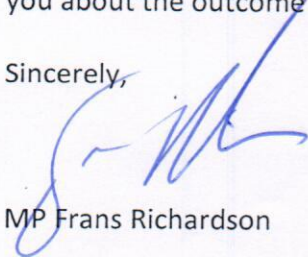

Recent reports reaching my office suggest that there is a serious and potentially explosive labor relations issue brewing at the tax office.

Employees there are complaining about abusive and non-caring management, favoritism and other ills in the work place.

Needless to say, we cannot tolerate anything that would interfere with the morale and hence the performance of the workers at that critical department. The entire government operation hinges on the efficient collection of taxes. Anything that even remotely threatens the smooth functioning of the department therefore is of paramount importance.

As the Minister charged with responsibility for the tax department, I am hereby requesting your urgent intervention in order to prevent the situation from getting out of hand. I will appreciate hearing from you about the outcome of any such intervention .

Sincerely,

MP Frans Richardson
